

Jude
Miller Burke Ph.D.
BUSINESS PSYCHOLOGIST
SPEAKER, EXECUTIVE COACH, AUTHOR

Jude Miller Burke, Ph.D.

Expert on Leadership, Resiliency and Pathways to Success

Dr. Jude Miller Burke has created a career on understanding what drives employee performance and effective leadership in the corporate world. She has over twenty years experience in management and leadership positions. During her tenure at Honeywell she provided management consultation on critical employee work problems, individual employee counseling, and educational programs on effective supervision, personal and work problems.

As Vice President of Operations at OPTUM, a subsidiary of United Health Group, Jude built a national employee assistance program that provided services to companies throughout the nation. Her special areas of expertise include management consultation, leadership development, team effectiveness, employee performance improvement, and workplace and domestic violence prevention.

Jude has provided executive coaching and leadership presentations for the past ten years through the University of St. Thomas Business Center in Minneapolis, Murro Partners, and her own business, JAMB Consulting, both in Phoenix.

She is the author of The Millionaire Mystique published by Nicholas Brealey Publishing, U.S. and U.K., 2014. Jude is well-known for her research in her book based on a unique four-year study of 300 high performing business professionals including 150 self-made millionaires. The Millionaire Mystique uncovers the surprising secrets, individual stories and pivotal career decisions of successful and happy self-made millionaire women.

She presented her research four times from 2011 to 2015 to the American Psychological Association's Annual Conferences in Washington D.C and at the World Employee Assistance Professional Association Conferences twice. In addition, she has published multiple articles in professional journals in the area of leadership and factors that lead to success and has appeared on several national news shows.

Her credentials include a Doctorate in Organizational Systems, Masters in Organizational Development and Masters in Counseling Psychology (Licensed Psychologist). Dr. Jude Miller Burke is a powerful keynote speaker and an expert on employee performance, leadership success, resiliency, and the impact of adversity on work effectiveness.